Asset Management Fees

Fees for asset management services are charged based on the average daily liquidation value of all accounts under management. Fees are negotiable and are determined at the discretion of the Firm based on complexity and client needs. Below is the maximum fee schedule for each asset tier:

- Assets under discretionary management
 - Less than $500,000 1.50%
 - $500,001-$1,500,000 1.25%
 - $1,500,001-$3,000,000 1.10%
 - $3,000,001-$5,000,000 1.00%
 - $5,000,001-$10,000,000 0.85%
 - $10,000,001+ NEGOTIABLE
- Assets managed on a non-discretionary basis
 - All sizes- 0.5%

Asset management fees are deducted from clients' accounts on either a daily basis in arrears or a monthly/quarterly basis in advance by the custodian; this is outlined in each individual contract. The minimum asset management fee is $3,000 per year; this minimum is waived for engaged planning clients.

Financial Planning Flat Fees/Hourly Fees

In some instances, the Firm will provide a flat fee for a specific service or engagement. The Firm has hourly rates ranging from $150-$300 per hour. Hourly fees are set prior to both parties entering a written contract. Planning fees are billed as stated in each written contract on either an hourly basis or flat fee. Our minimum initial planning fee is $450 and any unbilled hours will be held as a retainer for future services.

Ongoing service fees for financial plans are billed at a minimum rate of $50 per month and a maximum rate of 0.50% of base household income or included in the Asset Management Fee. This includes calls and in-person reviews, as needed.

Examples of hourly fees in use:

- Associate Advisor: $150/hour
- Senior Advisor: $225/hour
- Expert witness work: $300/hour

Other Fees or Expenses

In addition to advisory and planning fees, clients may incur custodian commission fees based on trading activity of accounts. The Firm receives no compensation from these custodian commission fees. The Firm has chosen two custodians in Interactive Brokers and Charles Schwab based on their low cost trading platform and best execution of trades.

In the event a client is paying advisory fees on a monthly/quarterly basis in advance and terminates the investment advisory agreement, the Firm will calculate and refund any fees not earned. The Firm will take the fee paid in advance, divide it by the number of trading days in the month/quarter, and refund the amount of fees unearned based on the number of unearned trading days in that period in the form of a paper check within thirty days of the terminated contract.

The Firm's supervised persons accept no compensation for the sale of securities or other investment products.

Item 6: Performance-Based Fees

Currently, the Firm's supervised persons do not accept performance based fees. That is defined as a fee based on a share of capital gains on or capital appreciation of the assets of a client.

Item 7: Types of Clients

The Firm provides services to; individuals, pensions and profit sharing plans, trusts, estates, charitable organizations, corporations, or business entities other than those listed above.

The Firm has no minimum account size but does impose a minimum annual fee $600 (combined asset management fee and/or planning fee). Generally, we recommend accounts of $500,000 or more.

Item 8: Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss

Methods of Analysis

The Firm uses multiple methods of analysis and investment strategies such as:

- Fundamental
 - This includes but is not limited to; measuring intrinsic value by examining related economic, financial and other qualitative and quantitative factors (includes macroeconomic factors and company-specific factors).
- Technical
 - This includes but is not limited to; analyzing statistics generated by market activity.
- Cyclical
 - This includes but is not limited to; selecting industries that are sensitive to the business cycles.

Investment Strategies

- Separate Managed Account
 - Investment strategies vary depending on risk tolerance, time horizon, and other investment objectives.

- Dividend and Income Model
 - The objective of this investment strategy is to seek return from a combination of both dividend income and capital appreciation in the underlying investment while maintaining an emphasis on preserving capital.
- Growth Model
 - The objective of this investment strategy is to provide and capture positive returns in a variety of market conditions while balancing risk through diversification amongst multiple sectors of the market.

Risk of Loss

For each of the above methods of analysis and investment strategies there is a risk of loss; that of a security potentially losing value. This is a common risk of investing. Here are the Security Specific Material Risks:

- Interest-rate Risk: Fluctuations in interest rates may cause investment prices to fluctuate. For example, when interest rates rise, yields on existing bonds become less attractive, causing their market values to decline.
- Market Risk: The price of a security, bond, or mutual fund may drop in reaction to tangible and intangible events and conditions. This type of risk is caused by external factors independent of a security's particular underlying circumstances. For example, political, economic and social conditions may trigger market events.
- Inflation Risk: When any type of inflation is present, a dollar today will buy more than a dollar next year, because purchasing power is eroding at the rate of inflation.
- Currency Risk: Overseas investments are subject to fluctuations in the value of the dollar against the currency of the investment's originating country. This is also referred to as exchange rate risk.
- Reinvestment Risk: This is the risk that future proceeds from investments may have to be reinvested at a potentially lower rate of return (i.e. interest rate). This primarily relates to fixed income securities.
- Business Risk: These risks are associated with a particular industry or a particular company within an industry. For example, oil-drilling companies depend on finding oil and then refining it, a lengthy process, before they can generate a profit. They carry a higher risk of profitability than an electric company which generates its income from a steady stream of customers who buy electricity no matter what the economic environment is like.
- Liquidity Risk: Liquidity is the ability to readily convert an investment into cash. Generally, assets are more liquid if many traders are interested in a standardized product. For example, Treasury Bills are highly liquid, while real estate properties are not.
- Financial Risk: Excessive borrowing to finance a business' operations increases the risk of profitability, because the company must meet the terms of its obligations in good times and bad. During periods of financial stress, the inability to meet loan obligations may result in bankruptcy and/or a declining market value.

Item 11: Code of Ethics, Participation or Interest in Client Transactions and Personal Trading

The Code focuses primarily on fiduciary duty, personal securities transactions, insider trading, gifts, and conflicts of interest. Item 12: Brokerage Practices

No compensation or incentive is accepted by The Firm in exchange for trading commission. The Firm does not determine the trading commissions; this is set by the custodian (Interactive Brokers and Charles Schwab). The Firm choose Interactive Brokers and Charles Schwab as the preferred custodians of client accounts but no client is obligated to use either custodian to custody their accounts.

If positions are bought and/or sold for multiple client accounts at the same time The Firm may place one single order through the custodian (Interactive Brokers or Charles Schwab).
